

Labor Party to Air Criticism of Bevin

LONDON, April 5.—(CP)—The annual conference of the Labor Party in June will air the criticism of Foreign Secretary Bevin's conduct of British foreign policy and condemn demands for a "drastic purge" of foreign office officials at home and abroad.

ONE OF MORE than 40 resolutions dealing with Bevin's foreign policy will call on the party to "repudiate Mr. Churchill's defeatist proposal to make the British Commonwealth a mere satellite of American monopoly and capitalism, which will inevitably lead to our being isolated in a partnership of hostility to Russia."

More than 400 resolutions were adopted today for discussion in the June 10-14 conference, a traditionally rough and tumble affair where labor union leaders and chiefs of the district party councils speak their minds.

One resolution would demand "a ceaseless campaigning activity... to sustain and expand the labor party's power, now that it has gained the first time full control of the government."

A BIG FIGHT, too, was in prospect over an application of the British Communists for affiliation with the party. Four big unions have tabled resolutions demanding that the Communists be admitted to the party's executive committee headed by Prof. Harold Laski.

Many of the resolutions would attack "Socialist foreign policy" and attack Mr. Bevin's conduct "as being a continuation of the Conservative foreign policy."

Canada Army May Keep Some Cavalry

OTTAWA, April 6.—(CP)—Officials said today it is almost certain the mechanized mounting has been decided the horse in the Canadian Army, but a definite decision has not yet been made. It is possible the Canadian Army may follow the British precedent and keep at least one squadron of cavalry mounted for ceremonial occasions and also as the army may require developments on specialized use of horses.

What Your Church Is Doing

Teacher-Training Credits To Be Awarded on Sunday

By HELEN FERRIS

At the morning service in Wesley United Church tomorrow, credits will be awarded to 22 candidates of the church's first teacher-training courses concluded last week.

IN KEEPING WITH the Council's plan for Christ and His Kingdom, the courses were a prelude to an intensive campaign for the evangelizing, deepening and strengthening of the spiritual life of the church and community.

There were 40 persons enrolled in the school. Instruction was based on two texts prescribed by the Religious Education Committee: "Teaching and Standardization of Sunday School" by Dr. J. W. Little, and "Teaching Children in the Church School" by Mary Eide.

Rev. James E. Cox, Minister of Wesley United Church, presiding at the morning service.

The courses were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. James E. Cox, and Mrs. Cox, respectively.

They consisted of ten successive sessions of 20 minutes each, with a ten-minute period of devotion each night.

They included the preparation of four written assignments, detailed discussion of project, lecture, quiz, assignment and discussion methods of teaching, and Bible study based on the assertion that "if you would know how Jesus taught, study His teachings."

Ex-Missionary Stationed Here

Next week, beginning April 11, there will be two Thursday and Friday night classes in visitation evangelism. Members will undertake the actual campaign of visitation on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings after Palm Sunday, April 14.

Then as a fitting climax to this phase of the work, a communion service symbolic of the Lord's Supper will be held the night before Good Friday.

Palm Sunday will have a double significance. In addition to featuring Maundy's candle, "The Lord's Supper," by the combined choirs of Wesley and Central United Churches in the evening, it will be declared Day for the Sunday School in the morning.

This occasion provides an opportunity for young people to make their vital decision for Christ as their personal Savior.

Following the custom of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in England, children make their own decisions rather than waiting for their parents to advise them when they should become definitely affiliated with the church.

This practice emphasizes personal, individual responsibility in the matter, thus making a profound and lasting impression on young souls at a time when worldly influences might claim them.

Immediately following his ordination, he went to the United States, where he was with his wife, an evangelist missionary to the Roman Mission of the United Church of Canada. There he was engaged in evangelistic and rural work. He was with his wife, after taking his master's degree in agricultural economics at Cornell University while on furlough in 1934-35.

AFTER EXPERIENCING three years of Japanese occupation in India, he served on the National Christian Council in Chungking during 1940, and with the British embassy service, from 1941-43.

Padre Matheson returned with his family over "The Hump" of India in the summer of 1943. He is now in Canada, having been ordained as a R.C.A.P. chaplain in the spring of 1944, and has since served on various stations in Canada.

TORONTO, April 6.—(CP)—Shortage of ministers of the "desperate" claims of new frontier communities, and new methods of training lay workers were among the matters discussed by the board of home missions of the United Church of Canada at present in annual session here. Representatives of the church are present from all parts of Canada and Newfoundland.

Today's Message

What God Does

WE ARE living in a world that seemingly offers few reasons for gladness or optimism. The threat of the atomic bomb, universal unemployment, despair and hunger are etched upon the faces of youth in many lands where so few have known what laughter and gaiety are. Even where war has not cast its shadow, there is now a whispering dread.

But the Bible says: "To them that love God, all things work together unto good." When worry mages into despair, it is time to remember that God, after all, is still the Supreme Artist; that behind what seems to us utterly evil may loom the pattern of blessings yet to unfold.

There is a moral for us in the story of the Rabbi Akiba, a humble and good man, who once went on a journey, taking with him a donkey, a rooster, and a lamp. When night came, he sought shelter in a village, but none would have him.

"All that God does is done well," the rabbi said, as he proceeded toward a dark forest to spend the night there.

He lit the lamp, but the wind extinguished it. "All that God does is done well," he repeated. And he said the same words again when, during the night, he discovered that his donkey and rooster had been devoured by wild beasts.

The next morning, the rabbi learned that enemy soldiers had passed through the forest as he slept there. If the donkey had brayed, if the rooster had crowed, if the light had attracted the soldiers, he would surely have been done to death. Pondering this, the humble rabbi gave praise once more: "All that God does is done well."

Young Girls Advised Looks Not Everything

It's What You Are That Counts

By JACK WILCE

There seems to be a tendency among a number of pre-teenagers to look at life in and make their way, mainly by the use of cosmetics and a beautiful ensemble.

MANY OF THEM TALK AS THOUGH THEY ARE THE ONLY ones who are so judged by the public.

How many young girls are there in the home today who, when they think they have become a little un- popular, or when they think they are not popular enough, are heard to say "no wonder, look at these old clothes I have to wear." Or possibly they say "I'm not using quite the right shade of eye make-up, or perhaps not enough."

These things are said in a pretty flimsy thing for enough to try and make their way through life.

Should these youngsters who they are looking the skin, then they are not popular enough, are heard to say "no wonder, look at these old clothes I have to wear." Or possibly they say "I'm not using quite the right shade of eye make-up, or perhaps not enough."

These things are said in a pretty flimsy thing for enough to try and make their way through life.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

The Cavendish Choir, a women's chorus, conducted by Leonard Betts, which, in its brief career, has established a splendid record of achievement, will appear in concert at the Masonic Temple on Monday, April 15. In addition to a series of contrasted part songs the cantata "A Legend of Granada" will be sung. The program is for female voices in four parts with soprano and tenor solo parts. On this occasion, the soloists will be Cathryn Zender, soprano, and William Smith, tenor. He is a young man of the most distinguished American musicians composed the music, which is light and tuneful, and yet is on a high plane of excellence. Mr. Hatfield's opera "Cleopatra's Night" was produced with success by the Metropolitan Opera Association, while his orchestral works have been performed by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony and many other important orchestras. His piano, instrumental music and choral works all have wide widespread popularity.

THE SCENE of the cantata is laid in Spain and deals with the adventures of the village hero, Hernandez, a bull-fighter. With the blessings and cheers of the villagers and their women companions at Jose's Inn in the hills where the bulls roam, he sets out for Granada to marry Conchita, his betrothed. On the way he succumbs to the charms of a Moorish princess, Fatima, who is not only bewitching, but is by way of being somewhat of a witch. Her spell is not broken for 20 years when Hernandez returns to Granada, only to find that Conchita, believing him dead, has entered a nunnery. The composer has made use of intriguing Spanish rhythms and themes and has contributed a colorful and melodious local background for the poem.

Although the Edmonton Philharmonic Society has completed its season's public appearances, its work carries on. As the Philharmonic conductor proposes, it carries on rehearsals at least until the end of June, if not into mid-July. The conductor has already begun the production of a new opera, "The Barber of Seville," by Rossini and Juliet overture-fantasy, "The World Symphony." It is ready to go into rehearsal, although it is still doubtful if it will be heard this season.

MEMBERS of the orchestra have expressed a desire to continue rehearsals and with this in mind, Mr. Franks is already in the office of the society, looking after the details of the orchestra's future plans. Incidentally public-spirited citizens already are com-

LONDON, April 6.—(Reuters).—Two new airways corporations to cover Europe and South America will be formed under provisions of the new aviation bill, text of which was released yesterday.

THE NEW CORPORATIONS will be the British Overseas Airways Corporation and the British South American Airways Corporation. The main purpose of the bill is to provide for development of the air transport services by these corporations, together with the existing British Overseas Airways Corporation, and to make arrangements for airframes for such services.

The explanatory and financial memorandum to the bill says the three corporations are to provide air transport services and to do other forms of aerial work in any part of the world.

They are to have power to do whatever is necessary for carrying out their functions, including power to acquire or provide other air transport, underwriting or to hold interests in such undertakings.

THE GOVERNMENT would provide a maximum subsidy of £4,000,000 (£27,000,000 over the next 10 years with £10,000,000 for each of the two new corporations each year thereafter through the 1956 fiscal year.

The corporations would have the exclusive privilege of operating scheduled air transport services within the United Kingdom, and to and from the United Kingdom. The only scheduled services to be accepted are those operated in accordance with international agreements by undertakings whose principal place of business is outside the United Kingdom, and whose services are operated for giving international service or for carrying out duties or for ambulance or rescue purposes.

Blame Fuels, Not Furnace

Many a householder whose furnace is almost worn out and who plans to buy a different system next time would do well to consider whether the furnace or the fuel is to blame.

During the past few years when extra demands of wartime have cut down the fuel allowance to Canadian households, many substitute fuels have been used. Naturally, these have not given as satisfactory service as when the best fuels were in free supply. Consequently, many a householder who is blaming his furnace should lay the blame on the fuel. Irregular heating, clinking, burning out fires, poor combustion and a tremendous amount of ashes may be laid to these fuels rather than to the furnace.

So consider carefully before you change your make of furnace. Remember that soon the good fuels will be back again. Ask your heating contractor about it. He is best able to advise you as to types of heating equipment for use with different fuels and he can save you money by recommending from his intimate knowledge what is best for your individual requirements.

Ranch-Style House Designed for Small Lot

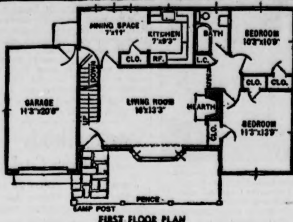

If it's something rustic you're after, this five-room ranch-style home is just the thing. It offers one-floor plan.

Built of masonry and frame, it features a single roof, balanced design in front. A rail fence marking off a flagstone terrace gives a secluded look. The large view window in front provides fine natural light.

There is a single-car garage attached. The kitchen is designed for step-saving, for there is plenty of closet space close by. The interior is well-balanced.

You can build this home in city or suburb on a 60-foot lot. Note the attached kitchen and dinette and the hearth provided in the living room.

Modern Laundry Beside Kitchen

The more extreme phase of visual modernity in house planning is giving way to a more practical type of planning that, while it may not be so "streamlined" in appearance is really more truly functional.

One aspect of this trend is the greater frequency of laundries and on the same floor rather than in the basement. This not only avoids busy steps in the housewife's day but also eliminates a lot of heavy lugging of clothes up and down stairs.

Another aspect of the "laundry on the ground floor" is a door opening conveniently to the garden. The ideal plan for this pattern is a rear service door opening to the laundry and a swing door from that department to the kitchen. Groceries and other deliveries may be left just inside the outer door until required in the kitchen and the child may use this same door and so avoid tracking grit and wet clothes into the house.

Before going too far with the plans for the new house, see your plumber. He can help you plan the piping and fixtures for greatest economy and convenience.

Arrive Home Tonight Canadians Trifle "Weary" After Tough Puck Series

Soccer Notes

by TOM GREEN

We would like to remind you of some of the great men in Canadian football. Men, who by their untiring efforts, sacrifice in the game, their financial aid, and intellectual legislation, without any thought of their own discomfort, have made the game enough to carry on after their playing days were over.

Men like Sam Davidson (Winnipeg), who since 1921 has held the office of secretary-treasurer for the local football association. A typical Irishman who fully understands the duties assigned to him as a secretary-treasurer. He is at all his dealings, Sam organized and managed all during British team that have visited our fair dominion since 1921.

ANOTHER MAN WITH OUTSTANDING ability as a football legislator is John Russell (Vancouver), a lawyer, and one time assistant manager for the Vancouver Province. He is a past president of the DFA, also of the BCFA, and during a very trying period, he was chairman of the committee appointed to straighten out a little unpleasant business between the players and the DFA which they did to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Now we have come to C. M. Small (Edmonton). Everybody hereabouts knows Charlie as a Maple Leaf hockey man. He was president of that club for a number of years. What good work he did for hockey is small by way of comparison of his soccer activities. He is a past president of the DFA, having held the office from 1932 to 1935. He also held the office for many years of the Alberta FA. A leading light in the soccer world for many years we do not care to remember, always considered himself as the dignitary of a high ranking official. A player of no mean ability with the Edmonton Cutlers around 1910-1912.

NEXT WE HAVE the late Jimmy Adams (Victoria), prominent man in municipal affairs, and for many years an alderman in the capital city of B.C. He was a long time member of the DFA and managed the Canadian all star team which toured Australia in 1927. His success in this trip earned for him the honor of again being elected to the position of a high ranking official. A player of no mean ability with the Edmonton Cutlers around 1910-1912.

TOM HOLLAND (TORONTO), is another great soccer man, and we mean this in more ways than one. As Tom is the heaviest man we ever had the pleasure of meeting. His activity in sport was amazing. He is one of the long standing members of the DFA. He is a past president of the association, and now a life member. Also, he was connected with the Toronto Ulster United club.

BACK TO ALBERTA and we are forced to couple the name of Fred Crumbeholme (Calgary). Another soccer is mentioned. "Crummy" as we know him, has spent a lifetime with the game. He is a native of Bolton, England—and speaking in the vernacular—his violent death on Burden Park, the home of Bolton Wanderers where the disaster struck 28 lives occurred just recently. One has to be connected with Fred to know his true qualities as a football legislator. At the present time he is a member of the DFA and has at least four years experience as president of the Alberta FA. He has also served on several investigation committees for the DFA.

Others worthy of mention are the late Jack Somerville (Monterey) whose work on behalf of football has not been mentioned. Past President John Easton (Winnipeg), Herb Wilcox (Fort William), Charlie Jones (Vancouver), all of whom have contributed to the success of the most popular British game in Canada.

Cards Four Under Score Golf Stars Overshadowed By 'Unknown' Herman Keiser

Benny McCoy Hopes To Join Detroit

by BYRON NELSON

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6.—(AP)—The Masters golf tournament reached the halfway point last night and slender, blue-eyed "unknown" Herman Keiser, who has been in front of the superstars. He threatened to give them the beating of their guilded canopies.

Keiser, 31-year-old former sailor who shot a fine 69 in Thursday's high wind to tie for the lead at the end of the first six days, came right back Friday with a spectacular 60—four under par for the Augusta national course—to show there was nothing accidental about it. At the rate he is playing, he will be in the lead at the end of the tournament.

At the rate he is playing, he will be in the lead at the end of the tournament.

Five big strokes behind his two-day total of 137 was Jimmy Thomson, the long-hitter from Los Angeles, with 72-69—143. Clayton Heiser, N.C., with successive rounds of 71-69—140, was in third place, and the rest were within 10 strokes of the lead. Heiser proved they could shoot winter-tournament record of 77 strokes for 72 holes and win a prize of $2,500 without working up a sweat.

Ben Hogan, co-vicariate with Byron Nelson in pre-tournament play, was in the lead at the end of the first six days, with 72-69—143. Clayton Heiser, N.C., with successive rounds of 71-69—140, was in third place, and the rest were within 10 strokes of the lead. Not feeling so 35 yesterday, Keiser played the kind of golf that dreams are made of. He was on every green and he hit the hole on every hole. Pete Slobodian Is on Sidelines

CALGARY, April 6.—(AP)—Calgary Stampeder player Pete Slobodian may face Traill Smoke Eaters here today in the second game of the Western Canada senior amateur hockey final but the team is still favored to win over the speedy British Columbia champions.

Slobodian, who suffered a skate cut on the ankle in the first game, will be on the sidelines for eight to 10 days, it was learned. The cut, suffered when Mike Buckenip slipped against him at Traill, narrowly missed a tendon but chipped the bone.

Baskin, one of my favorite sports, but is now so favorable about golf that I am inclined to agree with him. Another thing about our game is that you must have a lot of things about it.

Everything out in advance before you try to accomplish it and am inclined to agree with him. Another thing about our game is that you must have a lot of things about it.

During the course of the evening we heard him and it will upset me so that I'll want to fill my clubs away.

I answered that I went out on the practice range and hit a few balls. I figured right from it I could get the feeling of the ball. After which I would go out on the practice range and hit a few balls.

COBB THEN WENT INTO his locker and brought back one of his favorite baseball bats which he used around the house as a support for his back. He said it was a good luck souvenir. Using a pillow for a plate, Ty went through all the motions very dramatically while he told us and demonstrated what he used to do to get out of slumps during a 154-game career.

"In order to be great at anything," Ty told us, "you've got to put back into it what you take out. I did the American League for 12 years, but I never went into a slump. I did it because I went into a slump."

"I would go out on the practice range and hit a few balls," Ty said. "I would go out on the practice range and hit a few balls."

TY THEORY APPLIES to golf as well. When he was in a slump he didn't go out and try to hit home runs, and it is my opinion that he shouldn't go out on the practice range and try to get out of a slump with a driver. Work along with your short game until you're playing it exactly as you want to play it and then gradually work through all the clubs until you have command of them again.

More golfers try to hit the ball 200 yards before they have any idea of what they're doing. They try to hit the ball 200 yards before they have any idea of what they're doing.

THE SAME IS TRUE in everything. It's timing that counts whether it is boxing, football, bowling or ice hockey. And the way to improve your game is to go slow until you have mastered it.

Ty was surprised that we knew as much about baseball as we did. During the course of a conversation about baseball he turned to me and said that had he coached me as a boy he would have made a first baseman out of me. The interested me because that's exactly the position I played on the kids I was a member of around 1905.

"I have never played before as many as 70,000 people have seen me," Ty told me. "What's more, the year of the crowd never bothered me, but when I have a six-foot putt to make, if a child's interest two miles away I'll miss it."

"I have never played before as many as 70,000 people have seen me," Ty told me. "What's more, the year of the crowd never bothered me, but when I have a six-foot putt to make, if a child's interest two miles away I'll miss it."

Believe 200 Residents To Ask for Gas Service

LACOMBE — Applications for natural gas service in Lacombe will be taken starting Monday at temporary offices at the Northwestern Utilities in Burrows department store.

Utilities officials expect that more than 200 residents of the town will take advantage of the natural gas service in their homes, and it is to be ascertained how many people in Lacombe actually want installed, that this office is being opened. H. B. McKim, A. McMillan, Harry Leonard and C. Tureton will be working in this office here, and will give figures regarding costs of installation and upkeep to persons desiring this information.

Although no definite promise will be given, it is believed that a large number of gas consumers can be serviced here before next winter sets in.

"OUR URGENT NEED" will be the slogan used during the Memorial Recreation Centre Fund campaign which gets underway April 7, when canvassers start contacting residents of the town and district.

Baby Uninjured

In Freak Crash

TORONTO, April 6.—(CP)—A David Prenter broke loose on Bathurst street in northwest Toronto last night and fled straight to a baby-carriage in which two-year-old Richard Collins was being whirled by his mother.

The steel trailer smashed the carriage to splinters. Baby Collins was not even hurt. Last night he was sleeping soundly at his home.

The carriage collapsed on the impact but the baby, thrown clear, was not hurt and the only injuries that could have been a few scratches. "It's a wonder the baby wasn't hurt," said his mother.

"It happened so quickly I didn't know what to do."

France Seeking 20,000 Horses in Canada

Nothing is more important to the western Allied countries of Europe than the rapid rehabilitation of their agriculture to fight starvation, and one of France's first needs is horses. To replace the horses killed or seized by the German army of occupation, the French government has sent a purchasing mission to Canada in an attempt to obtain 20,000 horses from this country.

The mission, which is headed by the chief of the agriculture and rationing division of the French supply council in Canada, Henry Lefebvre, has been in Canada for a few weeks only but has been very active at the Canadian National Railway, Montreal Stock Yards. Already, 700 horses have been purchased and started on their long journey to France by two CNR special trains. Each train carries 500 head of horses, also made the ocean trip.

The 20,000 horses to be selected will come from Quebec, Ontario, Western Canada and the Maritime provinces. The Quebec-bred horses, like the one shown at right, will go to the vineyards of the Don Valley in Ontario, because of their smaller size. This one is being bred by W. E. Watson, manager of the Montreal Stock Yards, while it is branded

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

BECAUSE most of the people who write to me, and most of those who come to see me, have grievances or troubles to air, many of my columns are devoted to bringing these things to the attention of the public. And, because it is the people who are having troubles who need help, and things which are wrong which need to be corrected, many of my columns are critical.

JUST TO KEEP the record straight: this column is about the nice things that happen to returned men, and the fine gestures which have been made by many civilians to help veterans get re-established, and the many veterans who are finding civilian life as good, or better, than they expected it would be.

In the first place, although many individuals veterans are finding it impossible to obtain jobs, figures show that about 80 per cent have been successful in obtaining steady employment. The majority of them are happy with the way things have turned out. Many report that they are being treated by their employers much better than they expected to be. Most of the rest, while

Charter Is Issued For Sugar Factory

A charter is said to have been issued by the provincial government for the construction of a beet sugar factory in the eastern irrigation district near Brooks, which it is hoped will be in operation in time to process the 1947 beet crop.

THE COMPANY estimates that the plant will cost nearly two million dollars and that $500,000 has already been raised. Delegations from the district have approached the provincial government for assistance in financing the plant, which is anticipated to be forthcoming under the terms of the Industrial Development Act or similar legislation.

Shares to be sold by the company to those who make use of the plant will have a par value of $200.

Plan Celebration Vimy Anniversary

Annual anniversary of Vimy Day will be commemorated Tuesday by the Edmonton unit of the Canadian Legion, according to W. J. Williams, M.L.A., secretary-treasurer.

At 7 p.m. there will be a parade to the Cenotaph where a wreath of flowers will be laid by the fallen comrades of both wars. It is asked that veterans of war and particularly men and women of the Second Great War, fall in line to pay tribute to their comrades.

The parade will fall in front of the Memorial Hall. After a service at the Cenotaph, the parade will return to the Memorial Hall by way of Jasper avenue.

Members of the Canadian Corps Association will also be at the Cenotaph at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday. A special service, President A. M. Adamson said Saturday. There will be no parade but all members are asked to attend, wearing berets and armbands.

Excavation Work Under Way This Week

Edmonton's street railway system's 1946 $304,000 paving and road construction program got under way this week when the Edmonton contractor, James Fitzgerald, started excavating work on a new road being cut through the intersection of 92 street and 97 avenue up to 95 street at Connors Road.

1946 Road Construction Program Starts With Bonnie Doon Link

Edmonton's street railway system's 1946 $304,000 paving and road construction program got under way this week when the Edmonton contractor, James Fitzgerald, started excavating work on a new road being cut through the intersection of 92 street and 97 avenue up to 95 street at Connors Road.

THE NEW ROAD, which is approximately 70 yards in length, is a link in the route being constructed to serve the Bonnie Doon line and will be a part of the road used also as a connecting link with the 92nd street line, and also a part of the 1946 construction program.

The total cost of the Bonnie Doon line for the new road and the grading, paving, drainage and installation of curbs and gutters is estimated at $162,000.

SEVEN MOTOR COACHES will be required to service this route, and orders were placed for them late last year. It is expected they will be delivered by the Canadian Car and Foundry Co. of Montreal, sometime prior to the completion of the work on this route. The cost of the seven motor coaches is $100,000.

FRANK DOON bus route will start at 104 street and Whyte avenue, and will run along Whyte avenue to 91 street, then on 91 street to 95 avenue, where the new road will connect with 92 avenue and 97 street, and then to the level bridge, up McDougall Hill and around the downtown loop followed by the trolley buses.

ALSO SCHEDULED for construction this year is the Biche line which will operate from 96 street and west on 76 avenue to 89 street and return. The construction of this project is estimated at $48,000. Two motor coaches, costing $30,000, have been ordered for this route.

Another project scheduled for this year is the Kingsway route which will run from 118 avenue and 124 street to Jasper avenue, via 118 avenue and Kingsway to 111 avenue and south on 101 street to 104 avenue, then east to the CNR depot.

Five motor coaches will be used on this route. They have been ordered and will cost $75,000. Paving costs on this route are estimated at $44,000.

THE NORTH EDMONTON sub also will be constructed this year. This will operate on the Fort Trail from 118 avenue to 127 street and return. Two motor coaches are being provided for this route, the cost of the equipment being $40,000, and the cost of widening the present Fort Trail pavement, $35,000.

Also to be established this year is the stub line on 106 street, South Edmonton. This line will operate via 104 street and University avenue, 76 avenue and 106 street to 68 avenue and return. Two motor coaches costing $30,000 will be used on the route and the paving cost

Questions Extent Of German Defeat

With approximately 75,000,000 Germans populating their shattered nation the Allies are confronted with a serious problem, and a meeting of the Canadian Club in the Macdonald hotel Friday.

FROM THE MILITARY point of view there were two schools of thought on the subject of whether Germany were beaten sufficiently for the rest of the world to assume she would never again rise as a military power.

Major Scott said it was his opinion that there was doubt that the sufferings endured by the Germans would have any lasting effect in turning their national mind away from the idea of war.

The Germans generally had shown no signs of repentance on the subject of the horrors brought on by the war, said Major Scott, adding that the Germans are sorry they lost the war, and that it is all over.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION What do you think of the proposal to introduce daylight saving for the summer months?

THE ANSWERS

FRED SNOW, clerk: As a baseball and sports fan I think the proposal an excellent one.

MRS. HELEN BATES, housewife: While the enactment of daylight saving would permit more time for baseball and other sports, it will make a great deal of difficulty for families where there are children. Parents will have more trouble getting them to bed at night.

WILLIAM FRASER, bookkeeper: I am in favor of daylight saving for the summer months, but am absolutely against it during the winter period. The daylight saving proposal will make considerable time available for the instruction of youngsters in sports all kinds, and also will be of great convenience to patrons. They will not have to rush their evening meal to see a baseball or football game.

Road Ahead

A little disappointed, but that they have received everything they really had a right to expect.

ALTHOUGH ABOUT 50 per cent of the veterans are having housing difficulties the majority of this will be taken care of by the government as well as national and local civilians as well as returned men. And while some report having to pay exorbitant rents, and some have been stuck badly when buying homes, there are some who have been treated royally.

For example I know of one case where a person who had a house to sell knocked $1000 off the price and at which he had listed when an evergreen was wanted to buy it. And the returned man didn't have to ask for the reduction. The owner just knocked off the $1000. In another case I know of an owner who wanted to sell his home. When he learned that one of the persons who wanted to buy it was a returned man he sold it to him at a price no far below the price that had been offered by civilian buyers. The returned man had been refused to take it—almost, but the owner was not so much as to let him go.

SIMILARLY, WHILE there are some landlords who have refused to rent to veterans, and especially to veterans with families, I know of cases where landlords have been forced to rent to anyone but veterans, and have even refused to rent to anyone but veterans who are not so much as to let them go.

Others, as well as this, and others where landlords are not so much as to let them go. And others where landlords are not so much as to let them go.

Jeep Takes Place

Winnipeg, April 6.—(CP)—The jeep will rank with the dir, the plough and the harrow if a bill to moderate the Manitoba Farm implements Act, which received royal assent today, is adopted.

The new definition of implement in the act will embrace the jeep, "any motor vehicle," the law says. "A general purpose vehicle of the type commonly called."

THE BILL'S DRAFTSMAN, some-what doubtful whether the word was defined enough to rate a place in the statute, was assured by Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell. The jeep said Campbell, could do almost anything on a farm and if the farmers were satisfied to call it a "jeep" so should the law.

The house also was told by Premier Gordon the federal department of reconstruction had ordered disposal of the surplus plant and machinery Transcona which has been inactive since end of the war.

COOKING OIL

"LAWSY!" exclaimed Gogo, as he popped his head through the trapdoor which leads from the Teenie Weenie kitchen down into the Teenie Weenie cellar, where the little folk store their food. Gogo lifted a thimble up onto the kitchen floor, wiped a Teenie Weenie drop of sweat from his face and continued: "This is de last drop of cookin' oil in de cellah!"

"That means no more dough-nuts," remarked the Cook, who was greasing the telephone slug that served the little people for a griddle. "Unless we find some nuts or cooking oil there are going to be a lot of favorite dishes missing around here. You can't cook without cooking oil."

The Teenie Weenies made most of their cooking oil from black walnuts and hickory nuts. It was a hard way for them to get oil, for the thick shells had to be cracked with Teenie Weenie blasting powder and then the oil had to be extracted from the nut meats by a slow process the Teenie Weenie Doctor had invented.

The General bought three wal-nuts from Nick, the red squirrel, but they didn't give much oil because they had dried out considerably during the Winter. One evening the Policeman, on his rounds, discovered a great heap of mixed nuts that had been thrown out back of the store where the Teenie Weenies found most of their groceries. It was too late to get them that night, but the little men were after the nuts at the first ray of daylight. A gray squirrel lived near the grocery and the Teenie Weenies knew he would find the nuts at dawn.

The TEENIE WEEENIES

BY Wm. DONAHUE

It rained hard most of the night and next morning the lane that runs near the Teenie Weenie village was flooded with water. The little people had to cross the lane because the nuts were on the other side and so they put on their tiny bathing suits and found a place through which they could wade and carry the nuts. Each Teenie Weenie could carry one of the lighter nuts, but it took two of the little men to handle the large English walnuts. It was quite a task, for an auto had passed along the lane and the tire treads had left two Teenie Weenie rivers which, in some places, were over a Teenie Weenie's head.

The men finally finished the work without any serious trouble although the Duncie fell with a pecan and he swallowed a lot of muddy water before he scrambled to his feet. The little chaps carried 17 pecans, 11 hazel nuts, 14 almonds and 9 English wal-nuts. The nuts made fair cooking oil but all the Teenie Weenies will tell you that nothing else is so delicious as doughnuts fried in black walnut oil.
